The First Local Mint.

One of the institutions here which has the special attention of tourists as well as the local people is the Mint, which is established on Nuuanu street, opposite Queen Emma Hall. It is interesting to enter the large main working room where general manager McDonough and his corps of assistants are at work. The cool and large lanai is a proper resting place and the vaults, where the "bars" to be minted and beer are kept present a very tasty spectacle. The Mint is open from 5:30 a. m. to 11:30 p. m. and during those hours the work never ceases. Visitors after looking over the place will find first class refreshments and the purest of liquors.

Special Term of Court.

The following cases have been set for trial before Judge Humphreys Monday, at which time the special July term opens:

W. L. Peterson vs. F. Pacheco. James Auld, et al vs. Oahu Lumber & Building Co.

Kooni Puaki vs. Lot K. C. Lane. Mortiz A. Rose et al vs. Chang Kim et al.

The cases remaining on the calendar will be taken up in their order except Paris vs. Magoon, administrator, which has been specially set for July 16.

Law is Unconstitutional.

Judge Humphreys yesterday, in dismissing the appeal of plaintiff in the case of Kennedy vs. Ryndolds, declared the law permitting appeals to Circuit Court at Chambers from District Courts was unconstitutional. He based his decision on the seventh amendment, and holds that in all cases where the amount involved more than $20 the parties are entitled to a jury trial by virtue of the United States constitution. This is barred by an appeal to Circuit Judge in Chambers, but is permissible on an appeal to the court itself which may summon a jury.

The property is divided equally among the brothers and sisters and parents of the deceased, excepting a lot of land at Kamaiki, Hawaii, which is devised to a brother, Frederick W. Thrum. The will is a holographic one and is dated May 21, 1898.

DEATH OF A HAWAIIAN PRINCESS.

Apoplexy the Cause While Bathing in the Sea at Waikiki.

As reported in Monday's INDEPENDENT the body of a woman was found upon the beach at Waikiki, opposite the residence of Princes David and Cupid. It was found to be the body of Keano, a high chiefess, well known and respected by Hawaiians. She was the reputed daughter of King Kamehameha V., and was in great favor with the late Princess Ruth. In late years she lived with the late Queen Dowager Kapiolani, and has been residing on the premises at Pualeilani under the protection of the princess. She has had three husbands, and several years ago her third husband went away into the mountains and nothing more was heard of him.

She was well when she left the house early in the morning and probably had an attack of apoplexy while bathing. By her first husband, she leaves one son, also a son by the second, who was W. Hoapili Kaauwai, King Kalakaua's first chamberlain, and several by her last, all surviving her to mourn their loss.

A jury was empanelled and the body viewed at the morgue. The inquest was held at noon, yesterday the jury bringing a verdict of death due to a failure of the heart.

The body lay in state all of yesterday at the Bungalow, Pualeilani, Waikiki, and many friends called. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon the funeral services were held by the Rev. H. H. Parker and the body borne to the grave all the way from Waikiki to the Kawaiahae cemetery. The following were the pallbearers: A. K. Palekaluhi, Morris K. Keohokalole, Jesse P. Makaiusi, Hoapili Kaauwai, Laauui and Kamehameha.
